The Status of Retail in 2021 in downtown Montgomery

Great downtowns throughout the world are centers for their region, not only for employment but also for culture and other amenities. So too in Montgomery, Alabama. The Riverfront and Downtown Montgomery Plan (2001), the Downtown Montgomery Plan (2007), and the recently completed update to the City's Comprehensive Plan, Envision Montgomery 2040 (2020), all recognize the importance of a sustained focus on Montgomery's downtown.

Indeed, Montgomery's downtown revitalization seems to have not only begun but to have firmly taken hold. In the early 2000's, publicly-funded, catalytic projects like the Riverwalk Stadium, the Riverfront Park and Amphitheatre, the Cramton Bowl, and the Multiplex were -- and remain -- critically important to the story of Downtown's rebirth. Now in 2021, the narrative about revitalization in Downtown Montgomery is clearly not an anecdote, nor is it based on public dollars. Despite struggling through the COVID-19 global pandemic, construction downtown not only continued strongly during 2020, in fact it saw the highest value of construction since 2014.

The land area of downtown in square miles is barely more than one percent of the area of the city of Montgomery as a whole. Because investment into new construction and renovation projects is one indicator to demonstrate an area's growth, the building permits construction value data has the advantage of being a data source that can be consistently repeated across properties, public and private, and across years.

While only one percent of the area of the city, downtown has a significant portion of the estimated construction values in Montgomery:

From 2014 to 2020, just over $244 million in reported construction values have been invested in Downtown Montgomery, equal to more than 16 percent of the $1.5 billion invested in construction City-wide during the same period.

In 2020 alone, nearly $50 million in reported construction values were invested in Downtown Montgomery, comprising 21 percent of the $235 million invested City-wide during the same period.¹

Downtown Montgomery would seem to be doing well in the area of construction. Though it is doing well in terms of building construction and renovation values, the amount of retail is very low. During the same time that downtown has experienced physical revitalization, the amount of retail businesses in downtown is far less vibrant. For example, it is difficult for visitors and workers to find many storefronts where durable goods can be purchased. Even the souvenir gift shops are few, and almost exclusively located inside museums, perhaps missing out on some of the buying power of Montgomery's many visitors and tourists.

With this context the report to follow is an attempt to understand and document what the current status is for retail in downtown. There is a boom of new retail and restaurants occurring out east, around for example, the EastChase area. Much of Montgomery's population has moved out east; there is an adage that "Rooftops drive retail." Would that suggest that downtown simply needs more residential housing units? Expecting that the solutions are not so simple, the following report attempts to document what is going on with retail in the downtown area.

In prior years, the City has commissioned outside companies to conduct studies of consumer demand and retail leakage analysis. For example, in 2020, the City hired Buxton out of Texas. They looked at the customer profile of area using cell phone based data to track customer behavior and the need to understand how far customers are willing to travel to find what they are looking to buy. They advised staff that cities can help communicate available spaces and locations, and that making demographic information easy to find was helpful. Another major effort was in 2012, where the City hired Birmingham based Retail Strategies. It found that there was likely significant consumer demand and retail leakage occurring out of downtown and they also recommended dedicating a staffer to build connections to landlords with empty spaces.

The current report does not take a retail leakage and consumer demand perspective, rather it begins with a much more modest approach. In 2021, the Development Division brought on an intern from the Auburn University of Montgomery (AUM) Master of Public Administration (MPA) program to help create a baseline of data for the year. The primary goal was to create a data set that is repeatable so it can be updated on an annual or bi-annual basis. Secondary goals were to make contact directly with businesses, and document empty potential retail spaces in the core of downtown.

To follow, please find a summary of downtown demographics, a summary and appendix on the make-up of downtown business licenses, discussion about available retail locations, along with surveys and interviews with local businesses and real estate brokers. We hope this report and research will enable staff to be better positioned to help the retail businesses that exist downtown, to better spot changes occurring, as surveys and interviews are repeated, and to adjust existing strategies as needed to support the downtown retail environment more broadly.

Downtown Study Area

The Downtown Montgomery Plan (2007) is the area which forms this report's study area boundaries, and it overlaps with those areas defined by "SmartCode" zoning.² SmartCode is the form-based zoning code that Montgomery uses in downtown, in the Hampstead neighborhood, and in the Old Cloverdale business district at East Fairview. The figure below displays the extents of the downtown study area in blue. The study area is a combination of City Council Districts 3 and 7. Interstate 65 is the western-most edge and Interstate 85 is the southernmost edge. The railroad line called "the cut" forms the northern boundary, with the eastern boundary largely along Ripley Street.

Zoning

SmartCode zoning Downtown includes the T2, T4-O, T4-R and T-5 zoning areas. Within the same study area mentioned, the “T5” transect area is the area where the highest density zoning and mixed-use development are allowed. The following is 2020 map of downtown zoning, including its mix of T5, T4-O and T4-R codes. The T5 area is the dark mauve color and is labeled “Urban Center”.

Alignment with Montgomery Plans Goals

The Transition Committee for Mayor Steven L. Reed published in 2020 the Transition Report: A Blueprint for a New Montgomery. The report states that “Montgomery has yet to reach the critical mass of human activity in the downtown area to attract substantial retail”³ It goes on to suggest that in addition to an updated Downtown Plan, Montgomery should focus an immediate effort on downtown streetscapes and block-by-block analysis, to determine areas that currently offer the greatest opportunity for development. The very first recommendation in the Economic Development chapter, page 27, states, “The City should play a leading role in increasing activity in the downtown area and should develop and deploy strategies to proactively increase the human presence downtown.”

The second recommendation in the Economic Development chapter calls for an update to the downtown plan. As of the writing of this report in summer 2021, consultant teams were being lined up to begin an update to that plan under the leadership of the Montgomery Area Chamber of Commerce.

Indeed while much has been implemented, other large goals do remain unmet from the current Downtown Montgomery Plan. It helpfully called out a list of enduring elements that define “vibrant downtowns” overall, noting that while Montgomery has many of these attributes, “continuing work is needed on others.” (p. 6.18). This list is found below including,

- A Mix of Uses and a Diversified Tax Base
- A Secure Environment
- Mass Transit
- A Mix of Downtown Housing Types
- An Identifiable Retail Core
- Entertainment
- Class A Office
- Civic and Culture Uses
- Historic Assets
- Hotels
- Managed, Efficient, Convenient Parking
- A Walkable Environment

A more healthy retail environment downtown would not only contribute to “vibrancy,” but there is also a substantial opportunity in the area of jobs and employment for the community. Following a years’ long community involvement process and research, the City of Montgomery adopted in 2020 an updated comprehensive plan entitled Envision Montgomery 2040.⁴ Among many findings, Envision 2040 found that “Retail” was the second largest employment sector in Montgomery after Manufacturing, representing 13 percent of the total and generating 12,000 jobs. Retail was considered in that report to be separate from “Accommodation and Food Services” which accounts for another 11 percent and 10,300 jobs. This is important to this study because with the retail sector being the second largest in Montgomery, there is even more of an incentive to make this sector a strength for the entire city. To follow is a table from the Envision 2040 strategic analysis memo on economic development, table 1 from page 2:

Top Five Employment Sectors in Montgomery

Sector	Employment	% of total
Manufacturing	13,000	14
Retail Trade	12,000	13
Health Care and Social Assistance	11,500	12
Administrative and Waste Services	10,400	11
Accommodation & Food Services	10,300	11

Demographic Summaries

Using the same Downtown study area polygon, which is 1.67 square miles in size, in March 2021, Charlie Bass, Analyst at the Montgomery Area Chamber of Commerce, ran an ESRI Demographic and Income Profile Report. The Environmental Systems Research Institute (“ESRI”) is the global market leader in GIS.⁵ This full report is attached as Appendix A.

ESRI data reported a downtown population of 2,956 people in the 2010 Census, with projections for 3,647 people in 2025. In 2020, there were 3,466 people in downtown, with a median age of 37.1 years and a median household income of $16,821. It is important to run this data as an insight into the first set of numbers that a national retail prospect might encounter if they are considering locating downtown.

To follow is an Infographic to convey the 2020 key facts that were reported on the ESRI system.

The level of income for households living in the immediate downtown polygon is not high. For comparison, the level of income representing a single-person household living at the poverty line is $12,880 per year for 2021. The downtown polygon's median household income is just above the poverty line for single-person household, but below it for a two-person household, which is considered in poverty at $17,420.⁶

⁵ Available at <https://www.esri.com/en-us/about/about-esri/overview> August 2021

In addition to the barrier of lower income levels, the number of households living in the immediate downtown polygon is not high. ESRI data reports 3,466 population. For illustration, many national retailers will look for areas with at least 10,000 people in a one-mile radius. These are not particularly strong numbers in and of themselves for attracting new and supporting existing retail. However, as the state's capital Montgomery does have a high number of tourists and commuters regularly visiting the area.

Below is a map encompassing Montgomery. The inner area bordered in green was assessed as a broad stand in for the make-up of the downtown Montgomery trade area. The outer area in blue was assessed as a stand in for the make-up of the regional trade area around Montgomery.

⁶ American Council on Aging, 2021 Federal Poverty Levels/ Guidelines and how they Determine Medicaid Eligibility, (2021).

The area bordered in green comprises some 117.29 square miles. There were 138,036 people living there in 2020 with a median household income of $47,026. For further reference, ESRI has provided demographics that include some of the surrounding areas outside of the downtown polygon. This information can be found in Appendix A. There were 288,428 people living in the area bordered in blue in 2020 and there was a median household income of $52,467. Indeed the demographic information for a larger Montgomery retail trade area is more optimistic, as is a more regional retail trade area. To follow are two graphs displaying the demographics for both Montgomery’s downtown trade area and regional trade area. Graph a displays the regional area and graph b displays Montgomery’s trade area as is.

As the regional hub, Montgomery's potential downtown retail trade area could draw in shoppers from much more than simply the downtown plan area. Looking at all of these numbers it is clear that there is a small consumer base for retail in downtown even when comparing outside demographics. If there were more retail businesses to come Downtown it is not clear that there would be substantial activity with that market. This suggests that something may need to be done to combat the low income levels in the surrounding areas in order for businesses to be incentivized to establish downtown.

Summary of Businesses – Licenses

To gain an idea of what businesses are established downtown as of 2020 staff referred to the 2020 list of all of the business licenses for downtown Montgomery. We began with data pulled by Nida Jackson, City of Montgomery, GIS Staff. This data was then reviewed and edited for errors and duplicates by Patrick Vines and Faye Comer, City of Montgomery Finance Department, Business Licenses & Revenue Division. According to this list there were 1,036 business licenses in downtown in 2020. City business licenses are held for the calendar year, so that number is for the 2020 year. The full list is attached as Appendix B.

By far the majority of business licenses in Montgomery are held by individual attorneys. We have left the Type and Description fields unedited in the Appendix data in the interest of full transparency. Below is a breakdown of the new, renewed, and amended licenses for 2020. There were 80 new licenses, or 7.72 percent; and one was amended. In 2020, there were 1,036 business licenses in downtown. In addition, the vast majority of all of the licenses were renewed, totaling 955 or 92.18 percent.

Total Number of 2020 Business Licenses in the Downtown Plan Area = 1,036

Number of New Business Licenses in 2020 = 80
Percent New of Total Licenses = 7.72%

Number of Renewed Business Licenses in 2020 = 955
Percent Renewed of Total Licenses = 92.18%

Number of Amended Business Licenses in 2020 = 1
Percent Amended of Total Licenses = 0.10%

For comparison with the City of Montgomery as a whole, in 2020 Ms. Comer reported that Montgomery has 16,624 business licenses total. In other words, the downtown area only consists of 6.2% of the business licenses of Montgomery as a whole. For comparison, the physical downtown area is one percent of the square miles of the city. Of the total construction values in 2020 just over 21 percent was invested in downtown Montgomery.

For reference, on the next page you will find a map of the 2020 downtown business licenses. This map was created by Nida Jackson, Montgomery GIS staff, and it shows every location that has one or more business licenses downtown for 2020. Although difficult to read in hard copy, there is a large poster version of this map that can be found in the Department's offices at 25 Washington. This map can also be found as Appendix C. An online reader of this report could expand the view of the map for better clarity.

Each dot in the map above is at a location that has one or more business licenses recorded for that address, and each dot has a number attached to it that allows the viewer to see how many licenses are concentrated in that particular address, which is more useful to display where the clusters of licenses were in 2020.

As we noted above, there were only 80 new business licenses in 2020. Looking deeper into that grouping, even fewer actually had a physical, on-street storefront in downtown. Many of the 80 new licenses were for attorneys or accountants and often within a larger firm. Below is the list of the new business licenses of 202 that were not attorneys or accountants with a firm, and that had a physical storefront. (Again referencing the full list at Appendix B.)

1. Circle K Store at 318 Madison Avenue
2. Dogwood Media Solutions at 19 South Court Street
3. Equal Justice Initiative Gift Shop at 401 N Perry
4. Intuitive Touch Massage at 321 North Hull Street
5. Pannie-George's Kitchen II on North Court Street
6. Plant Bae at 175 Lee Street
7. Roll N Roll Sushi at 36 Dexter Avenue

Perhaps the year 2020 was an anomaly. It is clear, however, with numbers as low as this, that a very manageable goal would be to commit to making person to person contacts with all new business licenses in the retail category who have physical storefronts in downtown Montgomery.

Summary of Businesses & Categorization

Although the 2020 business license data was very useful to analyzing the business environment downtown generally, the list did not have clear categorization for what retail consists of. In an effort to gain more clarity on what businesses counted as retail we first consulted Dr. Vanessa Funches, from the Auburn Montgomery Economics Department, to seek a clear definition of “retail.” She referred us to Retail Management: A Strategic Approach, third edition, by Barry Berman, Joel R. Evans, and Patrali Chatterjee, which states that retailing,

“[E]ncompasses the business activities involved in selling goods and services to consumers for their personal, family, or household use.”

Just merely a definition did not categorize the businesses in the list so staff went a step further. Referring again to the Downtown Polygon, which is 1.67 square miles in size, in March 2021, Charlie Bass, Analyst at the Montgomery Area Chamber of Commerce, also ran an ESRI Business Summary Report for us with a forecast for 2020. That two page Business Summary Report is attached as Appendix D. It found there were 1,270 businesses, and 29,165 employees Downtown. ESRI provides two sources that categorize businesses. These are the SIC and NAICS codes.

SIC Codes

The Standard Industrial Classification Codes (SICS) are “four-digit numerical codes assigned by the U.S. government to business establishments to identify the primary business of the establishment.” This classification helps foster the overall analysis of data, and aid in uniformity and comparability in the presentation of data. Various federal, state, and private organizations use this classification. Every company has a primary SIC code, which is determined by what generates the highest revenue for that company at a specific location during the previous year.

Using SIC Codes, of the 2020 businesses in downtown Montgomery, ninety nine (99) of the 1,270 were classified as “Retail Trade.” That is 7.80 percent. The major categories of all 1,270 downtown businesses broken down by SIC Codes in Appendix D. In the figure below is how they break down as a whole with the “Services Summary” grouping taking up the largest amount of business enterprises at 42.70 percent of the 1,270, followed by the “Government” grouping at 29.40 percent.

In the SIC Codes break out shown in Appendix D, the Retail Trade Summary has eight categories: Home Improvement, General Merchandise Stores, Food Stores, Auto Dealers, Gas Stations, Auto Aftermarket, Apparel & Accessory Stores, Furniture & Home Furnishings, Eating & Drinking Places, and Miscellaneous Retail.

In the figure 9 below, we illustrate how the Retail Trade Summary categories breakout. As noted above, according to the 2020 ESRI business summary for the Montgomery Downtown planning area only 99, or 7.80 percent of the businesses present were considered “Retail Trade.” Visible in figure 9 is the finer level breakout of each type of retail trade business downtown as a percentage of all retail trade businesses.

Some categories were more prominent than others. The retail trade category that was most prominent was “Eating & Drinking Places” which made up 43.60 percent of the downtown Retail Trade Summary.

The “Apparel & Accessory Stores” category was very low being only 5 of the 99, or 5.10 percent of the Retail Trade Summary. The category “General Merchandise Stores” is missing from the chart because, according to the SIC codes, downtown does not currently have this retail category.

NAICS Codes

A NAICS code is a “classification within The North American Industry Classification System.”⁷ This classification was created for use by Federal Statistical Agencies for fostering the collection and analysis of data related to the U.S economy. NAICS codes are self-assigned by individual companies. A company would select the code that best depicts their primary activity in the business. Some companies can have more than one code if there are multiple revenue generating activities.

Using the NAIC’s codes, and the same downtown polygon, fifty-five (55) of the 1,270 licenses were classified as retail. To see the full list of categorizations please refer to Appendix D. Under the retail are twelve different categories. The categories are: Motor Vehicle & Parts Dealers, Furniture & Home Furnishings Stores, Electronics & Appliance Stores, Bldg Material & Garden Equipment & Supplies Dealers Food & Beverage Stores, Health & Personal Care Stores, Gasoline Stations, Clothing & Clothing Accessories Stores, Sport Goods, Hobby, Book, &, Music Stores, General Merchandise Stores, Miscellaneous Store Retailers, and Nonstore Retailers. Looking at this list, Motor Vehicle and Parts Dealers and Sports Goods, Hobby, Book, and Music Stores are the most prominent businesses Downtown.

Classification System	Total Downtown	Retail Codes	Percentage of Retail
SIC	1,270	99	7.8%
NAICS	1,270	55	4.3%

Using the NAICS codes, retail makes up 4.3% of total businesses in the Downtown planning area. The data in the chart above was calculated by ESRI using census block groups to allocate the business summary data to the custom polygon, in this date the Downtown Polygon. We could not determine why this number is 234 businesses higher than the 2020 business license number of 1,036 given previously. Because this overlaps census block groups, we used the same polygon to run City of Montgomery Business Licenses for the year 2020. The same picture of a struggling retail environment is painted by both of these sources. Regardless of subtle differences in the categorizations of retail it is indisputable that the percentage of retail Downtown is modest.

Street-by-Street Assessment

In order to assess what currently exists downtown staff conducted a street-by-street assessment of the downtown plan area. The goals of the assessment were to account for what retail businesses currently exist Downtown and where the major opportunity areas are for potential retail businesses to locate in the future. This is a similar method the planning team of Montgomery used in 2007 when conducting their assessment of the streetscape of Downtown. Several weeks were put aside for staff to prioritize walking core designated streets to analyze the urban fabric of the area. Staff was able to take photographs of several of the retail businesses downtown, and of some spaces with the potential to house future retail. This process was guided by both the defined planning area and the list of the current, new, and renewed business licenses for 2020. Reviewing the business license list allowed staff to pinpoint the location of each existing retail business in order to prioritize time.

To follow is the approximate map that was assessed for the report.

The major streets staff were able to assess included most of those present in the T5 zoning area. These included: Dexter Avenue, Commerce Street, Alabama Street, Court Street, Washington Avenue, Montgomery Street, Lee Street, Madison Avenue, Monroe Street, Perry Street, McDonough Street, Adams Avenue, and Scott Street.

Retail Establishments Downtown

Retail businesses add to the vibrancy of downtown and offer hope for a future where more retail follow. Development photographed as many businesses as time would allow. At times there were photographs taken of both the inside and outside of the accounted for businesses. When owners were present on site during the street-by-street assessment staff took the time to speak with them about their experience being established downtown. Some of the encounters with business owners can be found in the interview section of this report. There are so few retail businesses in the downtown area that staff was able to visit several even under time constraints. Some of the businesses visited were not primarily retail, but did sell retail goods within their establishment. Among those photographed were:

- Hank Williams Museum gift shop
- Goat Hill Museum gift shop
- Moo Museum gift shop
- Rosa Parks Museum gift shop
- Freedom Rides Museum gift shop
- Be.You.Tiful on Wheels Boutique
- Charlies Trophies
- New South Books
- 1977 Books
- City Drug
- Looking Good Boutique
- Ishi Boutique
- Prevail Union
- Mama's Sac Lunches
- Montgomery Curb Market
 - FDL Gourmet To Go and Catering
 - Brina's B. Boutique
 - Alanna's Gourmet

Freedom Rides Museum

Looking Good Boutique

There were two unanticipated observations found after assessing the 2020 list of business licenses and after conducting the street assessment worthy of mentioning. First, Montgomery has the unique aspect of having several museums located in the Downtown area. Given the historic background of Montgomery, particularly the pivotal Civil Rights movements that took place, and the recent upsurge of tourism to the area this is not surprising. The gift shops inside museums would be considered retail businesses because durable goods can be purchased within them. Although these shops may not be visible to the street they are important retail providers because they feature some of the city's most unique souvenirs. Museum gift shops offer some of the most diverse goods to the public. Other museum gift shops not listed that are also present downtown include the Troy University, the First White House of the Confederacy, and the EJI Legacy Museum's.

Second to note is the high concentration of business licenses just solely located inside of the Curb Market on Madison Avenue. The Montgomery Curb Market has been located on 1004 Madison Avenue since 1947 and is open to visitors that want to purchase a variety of goods such as flowers, produce, and specialty foods. Most vendors in the market are expected to have a business license, however farmer's that sell their own locally grown produce are not required to have a business license. Of the small amount of retail business licenses recorded, fifteen were concentrated in the curb market. The Curb Market has been acting as an incubator for retail by housing a significant cluster of the few retail that exists.

With the cluster of businesses located inside of the Curb Market, just one location in the city, and the prevalence of museums, unique retail providers, it is even more evident that there is a lack of retail in downtown Montgomery with a physical storefront. This speaks to the complexity of the issue of the diminishing retail environment. Much of the downtown planning area is vacant of any physical establishments at all.

In addition, if locals/tourists are unaware of destinations like the Curb Market, which serves as an incubator for retail businesses, there is a missed opportunity for both economic productivity and the opportunity to attract more people to downtown. A potential step to addressing the lack of retail, and increasing productivity as a whole, could be to uplift establishments like this to draw more attention to them. What seems evident is that the Curb Market as a whole offers the community a diverse pool of retail goods which, in turn, has the potential to attract a wide customer base. This could help downtown appeal to people from outside of the local trade area.

Potential New Retail Locations

After visiting the existing retail establishments, phase two of the downtown street-by-street assessment began. This consisted of staff walking/driving down the streets listed above and taking note of any empty commercial/retail-ready buildings. Some characteristics of a retail-ready building with a good-quality frontage would be one that consists of windows and doors facing pedestrians that pass by, and that would require minimal repairs. If a building with perceived potential was encountered, a photograph was taken and a note of the address was made. At times staff would note unique characteristics of the buildings, such as any damages or positive aspects.

After weeks of conducting this phase of the assessment staff developed a list of addresses to buildings that could potentially house a retail business along with respective photographs. The overwhelming takeaway from this assessment is that not only is there very little retail business downtown, but there are very little available spaces that could accommodate a potential retail business. There are five spaces accounted for in this study that we would consider largely retail-ready spaces that would not require intense rehabilitation. These spaces include:

- 2 Dexter Avenue
- 25 Dexter Avenue
- 57 Dexter Avenue
- 19 Commerce Street
- 31 Commerce Street
- 80 commerce Street

Staff obtained information on the owner, parcel number, building type/tenants, and market information (if it is for sale or lease) for all of the above buildings from either the Montgomery GIS public website or Loopnet.com. Most of the buildings were either for sale or lease. Knowing the prime candidates for future retail is another step to improving the retail environment downtown.

The process of collecting data on existing buildings downtown should be repeated on a regular basis. Having up-to-date data on the streetscape and vacant buildings downtown is crucial to monitoring the situation, and moving forward with possible solutions. Development had access to an intern for only a short period of time that could help conduct the assessment and finalize the report. In the future a full-time staff member would likely be able to be more thorough when conducting the overall assessment. Repeating this process annually would also allow the city to identify past trends that can be compared to current trends.

The following section illustrates examples of two of the retail-ready buildings that staff recorded, along with photographs and descriptions. These assessments display information that staff was interested in recording when encountering a building with retail potential.

Examples 1 and 2

31 Commerce Street

According to Loopnet.com, this building is vacant and owned by Juceviciute Dzene and Pukis Vytautas (LoopNet).⁸ It is a two-story commercial/residential building with a “retail” property type, and a “storefront” property subtype. There are roughly 450 residential units inside and five spaces for parking. The building is 11,673 SF. The frontage of the building consist of several windows covering, and there is brick flooring leading up to the doors of the building.

There is an open floor plan inside the building and there is concrete construction. As far as location, it is located at the heart of downtown Montgomery’s central business district. It is within walking distance to several restaurants and markets, and it is located within the T5 zoning area.

Currently, as of 2021, this property is for sale or investment by the owners for $595,000 (that is $51 per square foot). According to LoopNet, this is a reduced priced and the sellers are exceptionally motivated to sell. Being only 0.8 miles from I-65 and being located at the center of the entertainment district, this could be a prime location for a retail business to establish.

25 Dexter Avenue

Referring to LoopNet again, this is a three-story commercial/residential building with a “retail” property type and a “storefront” property subtype.⁹ According to GIS of Montgomery, it is owned by BRMD Investments LLC and the first floor is available for lease. The building has two east entrances to Lower Dexter Park. The gross leasable area consists of 8,740 SF. The parking ratio is 0.22/1,000 SF.

Some signature features of this building are the 16’ ceilings, historic plaster crown trim, very tall windows, and original hardwood floors. There are apartments on the second and third floors.

This building is also located in the T5 zoning area and what is considered the center of the central business district of downtown Montgomery. This aspect of location coupled with the building being close to the I-65/I-85 interchange makes for a prime location for a retail business.

Surveys on Retail Environment

Another part of the analysis downtown included seeking what others thought of the retail environment. Development created a google forms survey in an attempt to seek feedback on what some development specialists in the area think about downtown and the feasibility of improving the retail environment. The respondents and their responses remained anonymous to us. One over-arching takeaway from the results of that survey is that there are mixed-opinions regarding the retail situation Downtown as a whole. When reviewing the responses, it is suggested that revitalization of downtown retail will require both small/local and regional/national retail destinations. A copy of the raw survey answers, with the respondents being anonymous, can be found in Appendix E and a copy of the actual survey can be found as Appendix E.1.

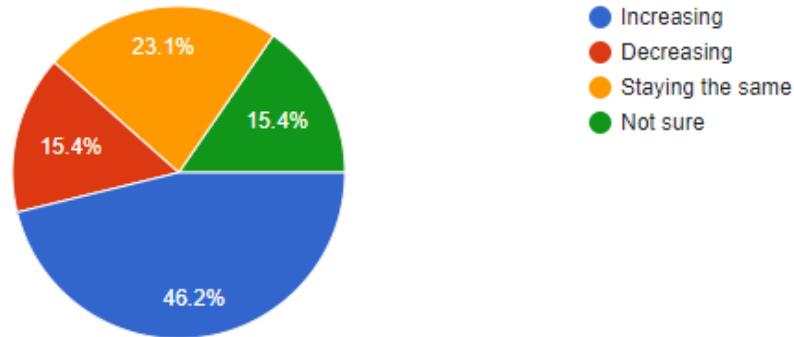

We sent the survey to thirty-five people that consisted of brokers and professionals that specialize in the areas of development and/or real estate. There were twelve responses in total. The survey was brief, but there was the option for respondents to leave their contact information for a follow-up interview. 50% did agree to a follow-up, and seven people left contact information. The survey was broken down into two multiple-choice questions and four open-ended. Specifically, the questions asked the respondents how many retail listings they had in the last five years, whether they have noticed these listings increasing or decreasing, their opinion on what is causing this change in retail (why they think retail is either increasing or decreasing), and what either the public or private sectors can do to bring more retail Downtown.

Is retail increasing or decreasing?

Of the respondents, 66.7% responded that they had a retail listing in the past five years. When the respondents were asked why they thought retail was either increasing or decreasing there were diverse answers. One respondent answered that Downtown is not a viable center for a fruitful retail environment and does not see retail listings, beyond food and beverage, increasing in the future. One respondent offered Covid-19 as a potential reason as to why retail listings have been decreasing, while another believes that they are increasing because of the surge in pre-Covid tourism to the City. There was a response that pegged the existence of “vacant office spaces, run-down businesses and lots” as a potential reason for listings decreasing. 50% of the respondents believed that retail listings are increasing in the Downtown area. It was mentioned that the creation of EJI, Convention business, street improvements, and hotel/apartment additions have helped this increase.

Over the last five years have you noticed retail listings increasing, decreasing, or staying the same?

13 responses

What can the private sector do to encourage more retail?

For the next part of the survey, respondents were encouraged to use as much space as possible when asked to detail what the public/private sector could do much to help encourage more retail listings Downtown. The responses ranged from simple to detailed suggestions. As mentioned, some had a negative outlook on the feasibility of increasing the amount of retail Downtown. One respondent replied,

“I have been pondering this issue for 12 years downtown. I have resolved that in this day and age, given the market segment that we serve. There should be no expectations of any meaningful retail downtown.”

However, there were nine responses offering solutions regarding what the private sector can do to encourage retail. Two of the respondents emphasized encouraging more entertainment attractions such as the water park underway. Another respondent suggested incorporating more grocery/drug stores. Another common response was that building owners should be encouraged to offer more affordable rent. One suggested referring to other Downtowns, such as Birmingham, to see what types of retail were successful in those areas. They go on to suggest that the types of businesses that have been successful in other areas should be encouraged to come to Downtown by providing “affordable retail space opportunities.” They also suggest providing investors with incentives to develop new retail spaces Downtown.

What can the public sector do to encourage more?

As far as what the public sector can do, one respondent recommended finding ways to incentivize businesses willing to open retail establishments and finding ways to support the current retail businesses. Two respondent’s suggested creating parks and places like that where families can gather. One response suggested subsidizing the school system in Montgomery. They believe that improving school systems will cause a domino effect by causing more people to move closer to Montgomery's school system, therefore expanding the market of people in the area. This respondent then left us with the question of "why does the City that houses the Capitol of Alabama have the worst school system?"

Two individuals did not offer suggestions, one because they believe that the question is too complicated and the other because they do not believe anything can be done by the public sector. It was suggested that pop-up businesses should be allowed so that some retail owners can test their market. Finally, one respondent simply answered that the City should attempt to make the process of opening a retail business Downtown easier. The idea was also suggested hinted at in the Transition Report to have more people that serve as a bridge to business owners.

The responses received from the survey coupled with the interviews in the next section gave us an idea of what some people with development experience downtown think about the retail situation, and what could be done moving forward. Some of the suggestions given have been a part of our ongoing discussions for potential next steps to addressing the retail problem. This data presented further solidifies that addressing this problem will require focused effort in multiple areas.

Interviews about the Retail Environment Downtown

As mentioned, another way that we gauged opinions on the retail situation was through interviews. These offered us an opportunity to personally speak with individuals with a background in development and/or real estate. We were also able to speak to some business owner's downtown about both their view on the current situation, and their experience having a business downtown. Some interviews were follow-ups from the surveys, while others were spontaneous and happened as a result of the street-by-street assessment. In all honesty, these interviews had a dual purpose. Not only did they serve as more data, but they were a way for the city to make connections with local business owners.

The questions asked of the individuals were all similar in structure to the survey. They ranged from gauging the interviewees views on what a healthy retail environment consists of, changes positive/negative to that retail environment they have noticed over the years, and what the City's role can be in this matter going forward. The interviews displayed the same type of data as the survey, but with more opportunity to discuss the respondent's ideas in greater detail. There are many aspects of Downtown to analyze when trying to understand how the city can better the retail situation. However, the commonality in some of the responses we received could indicate a few areas that, perhaps, the city should start focusing on now.

The Responses

Mr. Jake Kyser, owner of Kyser Property Management, was one of the first interviews conducted as a follow-up to the survey. The Kyser Property Management Company has operated in the River Region for the past 40 years. The company that he serves as a broker for owns multiple properties in real estate, one of which is an upscale restaurant called Central. He currently has listings for office, industrial, and retail buildings, as well as vacant land properties. He had much to say about the current retail situation Downtown and offered multiple suggestions for possible steps to strengthen the weaker areas of retail mentioned. Mr. Kyser stated,

"People that live, work or travel to downtown Montgomery have some overlapping retail needs, and those needs specific to each group. Retail that contains a mix of items that both locals and tourists need would be a logical way to approach this."

Mr. Kyser was also adamant that parking decks need to be made more publicly accessible. He would like to see more advertisement of them so that people coming to Downtown Montgomery know where to find them, and have an easier time parking. Lastly, he mentioned the idea that people should be better educated on how to start a business efficiently so that it could thrive in a place like downtown.

As mentioned, some interviews occurred impromptu. Mr. Preston Williams and Mr. Phillip Carter from FDL Gourmet and Catering, a long-running Private Chef driven catering and gourmet foods business based in Montgomery Alabama, were interviewed at the Curb Market on Madison Avenue by our AUM intern during one of the days dedicated to the street-by-street assessment. He believes that the invisible bridge between the City and the Curb Market needs to be “rebuilt.” He wishes that the process of establishing a business was easier, similar to previous interviewees and survey takers.

Mr. Preston Williams and Phillip Carter, FDL Gourmet To Go and Catering

The 2020 Transition Report mentioned earlier does suggest that the Development division be expanded to include an additional person that can serve as a bridge between potential business owners and the City. This individual would ideally be able to accommodate the needs of current/potential business owner’s by specializing in all things involving having a business Downtown. A budget request for this position was sent in 2020 and we are still waiting on a response. Whether this addition would add what Mr. Williams and Mr. Kyser believe is needed for cohesiveness between business owner and the City is unknown. However, communicating with individuals within Downtown helps the City get closer to finding what is missing.

Many support the logic that “people follow rooftops.” Is downtown simply missing more rooftops? Mr. Gene Cody, CCIM, from Moore Company Realty seems to think this could be the case. Mr. Cody believes that people follow businesses. He would like to see more added in entertainment Downtown to “target the younger population.” He also explained his belief that having more festivals Downtown would have a positive impact on overall foot traffic. It is our hope that the revival of events such as “Food Truck Fridays” will encourage more foot traffic in this way. Events like these have the potential to pull people from several different trade areas into the city (and expand the blue border seen in the demographic summary graphs). All businesses benefit from the overflow of foot traffic during events like these.

Mrs. Keiauna White, owner of Be.You.tiful on Wheels Boutique on Court Street, is one such business. Mrs. White has had an ongoing relationship with the Economic and Community Development Division, and has spoken with us multiple times about having a retail business Downtown. Recently, her boutique relocated, and you can find her new location at 1 Court Square. She has had a business downtown since 2008, and is very familiar with the area. Throughout our interactions with Mrs. White she discussed her personal experience having a retail business Downtown throughout the years. One of the aspects of downtown she enjoys is the diversity of people due to the high rate of visitors/tourists.

Mrs. Keiauna White, Owner of Be.You.Tiful on Wheels Boutique

Mrs. White was candid about her desire, as others have been, that aspiring business owners be better educated on how to establish a business Downtown, and that there need to be modifications to parking. She would also like to see current businesses supported and uplifted more. Her hope is that eventually there will be more retail businesses grouped together so that she has a community of business owners around her. Another idea that Mrs. White mentioned was allowing pop-up businesses establish themselves in a designated area.

Concluding Observations

Downtown Montgomery has been experiencing an upsurge in development and revitalization. Major downtown public and public-private catalytic projects in the early 21st century have changed the trajectory of development downtown after suffering decades of decline in the late part of the 20th century. Construction investment has been steadily increasing and the numbers of tourists and visitors are also, on the whole, increasing. The new National Memorial for Peace and Justice has brought an estimated 1,000,000 visitors since it opened in late 2018. Despite these positives, the state of retail businesses in downtown Montgomery in 2021 is not strong. The problems affecting retail downtown appear to be multiple and complex.

This report takes a first step at assessing what retail does exist downtown and provides modest insights into the nature of the retail environment as a whole downtown. In order to analyze and attempt to unpack the issue of downtown retail, City staff completed the following tasks; we looked at demographic data, business licenses data, we began a street-by-street assessment of current retail/potential retail spaces in the T5 zoning, we constructed and issued a survey to draw observations from professionals in the development/real estate fields, and we conducted a few targeted interviews with downtown businesses. Despite all these efforts, this study is very modest and could be expanded.

This report does summarize the current status of retail downtown, and has started to identify opportunities for improvement. There are substantial areas that are beyond the scope of what the City can do and affect. Nevertheless, it does seem that more could be done with a concerted effort to support retail businesses in downtown. The buckets of work involved are broad. Below are the four broad areas with sub ideas that come out of them:

1. Work to improve the physical environment of downtown
2. Work to support for the existing retail we have
3. Work to bring in new retail businesses
4. Work to increase the potential retail customer base
 - With more housing
 - By catering to employees downtown
 - By pulling customers from the larger trade areas, including
 - with special events,
 - and destination retailers that are regional draws

What is clear is that the “right” combination of efforts it will take to improve downtown retail is still unknown, but it will involve focused concentration across several different areas of emphasis and a collaboration across multiple sectors. It is difficult to decipher which areas the city should focus on. There could be a focus on increasing the amount of travelers or employees. Or even, improving perception of what is here and what is currently taking place. Perhaps a targeted focus on pulling in groups from outside of the Downtown trade area would lead to more businesses locating in the area. There could also be a focus on improving the streetscape Downtown. The city could focus on uplifting the retail businesses that do exist. Whether one of these areas should take priority, or if a combination of all four of the broad areas mentioned would help revitalize the retail sector is unknown.

Staff hopes that by taking this small step forward, additional retail work focus can begin and more study can be repeated at regular intervals. We took the opportunity to outline some more specific actions that a staff person, if funded, could more readily focus on:

Scope of Work

Base Data

1. Create a baseline for information. Document available ground floor retail: location, sq. footage, rent/lease/for sale rates, become familiar with retail tenants renovation needs, access issues, available parking.
2. Repeat the retail assessment of business licenses at least annually to understand what's going on and be better able to respond to changes over time.
3. Walk and photograph the same areas of street at least annually to document changes.

Communications

4. Develop contacts with Real estate Brokers that are listing retail spaces.
5. Know the Landlords that are looking for help and be aware of listings
6. Attend Downtown Business Association (DBA) meetings to understand issues and opportunities on the ground
7. Partner with the CVB and Chamber regarding visitor needs/desires and Business interests

Marketing and Promotion

8. Develop a retail webpage to promote the city including:
 - a. Demographic data
 - b. Downtown data
 - c. Tourism data
 - d. Employment data
9. Know the existing retail businesses more specifically downtown
 - a. Celebrate them!
 - b. Help connect them with resources, address issues as they come up
10. Know the restaurant businesses downtown and their unique issues
 - a. Consider food trucks as an incubator, micro-business for future restaurants.
11. Look at Curb Market, other micro-entrepreneurs' locations – like Southern Arts on Madison -- that serve as incubators. Treat and talk about them as such, support the businesses to expand.

12. Work to recruit a national retail tenant downtown
 - a. Find the best locations and focus on the goal

Manage and Sustain

13. Update and issue the Retail Development Coordinator position
 - a. Hire and place within Development Division
14. Understand Alabama Retail Association goals and connection
15. Update the retail data for downtown residents, daytime employees, visitors, and tourists.

Get Small Wins, then Grow Scope

16. Find and work with a volunteer landlord(s) for a pop up for holidays
17. Work with Special Events to get more people downtown.
18. Manage and fund special projects, like pop ups and windows
19. Promote and support downtown events- especially via the new Cultural Affairs group and the DBA, ones that keep people downtown after work or extend their enjoyment of and movement around downtown: including Food truck Fridays, First Fridays, Exercise classes and challenges, walks, rides, Waterfront Activities.
20. Start Downtown – then branch out to neighborhood-serving business districts
21. Assess T5 Streetscapes for retail potential environment
 - a. Call out opportunities for physical improvement, tree wells, art, planters
 - b. Advocate for funding and follow projects through to completion
 - c. Assess and improve T4 nodes with commercial potential.

Support with Policy

22. Work with Inspections staff to address Properties that are abandoned or have maintenance issues on key T5 streets downtown.

Staff hopes that by taking this small step forward, additional retail work focus can begin and more study can be repeated at regular intervals. Staff intends that this report, more research, and new relationships, will enable the City to be better positioned to help the retail businesses that do exist downtown, to better spot changes – be they positive or negative - when they are occurring, and to support the downtown retail environment more broadly.

There is good reason to be optimistic. The country is beginning to come out of the COVID-19 global pandemic as vaccination rates increase and infection rates decrease. The Downtown Entertainment District was re-opened by Mayor Reed and the City Council on July 1, 2021, after having been terminated for multiple years.

Another reason to be optimistic is from sales tax. Sales tax revenues are increasing at both the City and State levels. During the writing of this report, WSFA News reported on June 10, 2021, “The state’s sales tax for March and April is up by 41% compared to last year when the coronavirus pandemic kick-started in the U.S.” This news report can be found in Appendix F and the 2020 City of Montgomery report on sales tax can be found in Appendix G. Mayor Reed cited City of Montgomery Finance Department reports in his June 15, 2021, presentation to City Council. Reports found that Montgomery saw a 15 percent increase in sales tax revenue, year over year. At the end of this report working outline of efforts needed to achieve this goal of resuscitating downtown retail has been included.

Staff looks forward to future retail assessments in 2022 and welcomes your feedback and suggestions.

Epilogue- A Hopeful Outlook

The finalizing of this report took more time than anticipated during 2021, in large part because of the complexity of the issue at hand. The report is recognized as modest, but it is a starting point that can be built on and expanded.

It also took longer because staff jumped right into taking action to start address pieces of the myriad problems behind retail downtown. For example, we are already developing better connections with retailers. This study is already helping build relationships between business owners and staff. This is critical and needs to grow. The few existing retail and restaurant owners all deserve to feel supported and valued and when those relationships are strong, there will be better opportunity to understand problems and concerns when they occur.

In addition, a number of meetings have started over summer to talk more directly about how the City could or should look at its own property at the Montgomery Curb Market located on 1004 Madison Avenue. Since this space serves as such an incubator for retail businesses downtown development, there is a natural interest in improving upon the physical condition of the market, and supporting its vendors that play a vital role in the economic productivity of downtown. Supporting these vendors and encouraging more people to visit the market is also an investment in encouraging healthy eating and supporting local farmers, as most of the vendors sell fresh locally grown fruits and vegetables.

A few ideas for the market building rehabilitation have even started since the onset of these meetings, among them being a fresh coating of paint on the outside of the market building! Other ideas included creation of new signage to trademark the market and to do more to help with the social media of the market. Updates like that are fairly are cost efficient and can help amplify plans for future events to support the market and its many small business vendors. Over the next year, as the market hits its 75th anniversary, there will be more opportunity to connect with a broader group of vendors and the market's board of directors.

Development staff has also started partnering more with the Armory Learning Arts Center, adjacent to the market. There could be great synergies there to increase artistic designs into the market, to collaborate on future events like wood carvings and sidewalk festivals. In addition, there are specific traffic safety and pedestrian issues that might be addressed in ways that also help increase visibility of both the Armory and the Market together. These are the types of actions that can be great first steps to starting to improve the retail environment around the Madison Avenue cluster, ideas than can then be replicated in other areas.

Without conducting this study, staff may not have been aware of the important cluster of businesses enveloped within the market or the need for improvements to the physical infrastructure of the building. Replicated in multiple areas around downtown, perhaps more momentum can be built. Staff is hopeful for a future where this study is more refined and where there are more opportunities to improve the retail environment downtown.

Building from your answer to the last question, why do you think that is the case? Please use as much space as you'd like.

The downtown properties I handle are generally not retail.

Covid has stunted retail demand in general

mix of increased tourism and opportunity followed by pandemic downturn, lack of confidence in the market

Two reasons for retail listings increasing. 1) more businesses going under 2) retail listings in downtown have directly paralleled the Montgomery's tourist revival tied to the Equal Justice center and Rosa Parks Museum.

Beyond food and beverage retail is not a viable option for entrepreneurs and business owners because it is terrible!

More people are living downtown; more tourists are (or at least before Covid) visiting and entrepreneurs are starting eating/snacks and entertainment entities in the area.

People that live, work or travel to downtown Montgomery have some overlapping retail needs and but also retail needs specific to each group. When I'm shopping for work I have different needs than if I'm shopping for my home. If I'm on vacation or traveling for work my retail shopping needs are different as well. Travelers, once they return, need places to shop but I'm not sure retailers downtown can survive on travelers alone. Getting locals and downtown residents patronizing these businesses is key.

There is a lot of vacant office space and run down houses and lots..

Additional retail has been developed.

EJI, Convention Business, Street Improvements, Apartment & Hotel Additions

Downtown is more popular

In your opinion, what can be done by the private sector to bring more retail to Downtown?

12 responses

Maintaining affordable rents.

More cultural attractions. Higher end entertainment work together to support the whole downtown vibe, put pressure on boarded up properties to participate or sell, collaborate for events that attract more people

In my opinion what type of retail are you thinking of?? Apparel is gone. Gifts should be tied to tourist... restaurants and entertainment are the only retail that I personally think will survive.

I have been pondering this issue for 12 years downtown. I have resolved that in this day and age, given the market segment that we serve. There should be no expectations of any meaningful retail downtown.

MONEY!!!

Owners of large buildings with multiple areas inside the building could lower the rent or rent on sliding scale fee based on retail sales of new business.

In your opinion, what can be done by the private sector to bring more retail to Downtown?

12 responses

Scale fee based on retail sales or new business.

Compile a list of retailers that have been successful in other downtowns and then target them about locating downtown. Provide affordable retail space opportunities for small retailers of various sizes. Retailers need somewhere to open a business. Many times a retailer considering opening in downtown Montgomery will be opening a new business or a second location. Either of these will involve risk and uncertainty around locating downtown. The problem is that with the cost of labor and materials being so high it makes it challenging for developers to provide affordable rental rates for small retailers without some form of governmental assistance/incentives. Providing or connecting investors with incentives to develop retail spaces downtown would be helpful. Anything that will increase the opportunity for success should be considered.

GROCERY STORE/DRUG STORE, Similar to the Circle K that opened up..

Continue to develop more residential downtown.

We need another big calling card. Retail will go around water park.

Shop there more

In your opinion, what can be done by the public sector to bring more retail to Downtown?

11 responses

Assisting in the marketing of Downtown.

No short answer to that.

court a couple high profile flagship black-owned retailers to key properties and help them flourish

Nothing

Unfortunately, nothing

Allow pop-up businesses for specific periods of time to test their market; offer flexible use in any available City owned building. If doing this - like an incubator, it could be for specific time in order to allow more businesses to have equal opportunity. Consider tax abatement or percentage of tax for specific time period, not indefinitely

Finding ways to incentivize businesses willing to open a retail establishment but also support businesses that have already invested in downtown and possibly struggled for one reason or another would be nice. Many businesses have been invested in downtown Montgomery for many years and they be should also be

period, not indefinitely

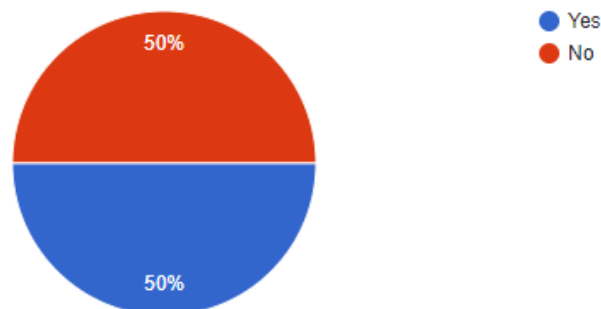

Finding ways to incentivize businesses willing to open a retail establishment but also support businesses that have already invested in downtown and possibly struggled for one reason or another would be nice. Many businesses have been invested in downtown Montgomery for many years and they should also be included in any plans to support new businesses opening. Providing adequate, accessible, public parking options for business owners and customers. If customers can't easily find nearby parking to enable them to patronize these retailers then they won't come. Nobody enjoys driving around for an extended period of time or parking many blocks away from their destination. It's a challenge to get local shoppers to accept this aspect of downtown shopping. Provide better signage designating public parking lots/decks as well as making sure these lots are well lit, maintained, and foster a safe environment. Convenience and safety are key. Anything that removes barriers and concerns of potential retail investors should be explored.

They could take some of those federal dollars, from the trillion dollar bill, and improve our city school system..People move to certain area because of wanting a great education for their kids..We have The worst school system in Alabama, yet we are the capitol city??We have facilities PARK CROSSING, CARVER, yet our Magnet program is housed in the worst of facilities..Our Maxwell/gunter troops dont want to bring their kids to Montgomery, Prattville/ Millbrook booming..This is the Issue.

Create more family events in the downtown area to drive traffic.

June 2021 WSFA news report on sales tax revenue

June 2021 News Report

Montgomery, AL (WSFA) News

“Alabamians shopping more in 2021; sales tax is ‘off the chart’”, Reporter Brady Talbert, Updated: Jun. 10, 2021 at 3:14 PM CDT <https://www.wsfa.com/2021/06/10/alabamians-shopping-more-2021-sales-tax-is-off-chart/>

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (WSFA) - More Alabamians are shopping again. The state’s sales tax for March and April is up by 41% compared to last year when the coronavirus pandemic kick-started in the U.S. The Alabama Retail Association said the growth is “off the chart.”

“People are still buying a lot online, but they’re also buying now a lot in store,” Nancy King Dennis of the Alabama Retail Association said on the numbers from the Alabama Department of Revenue. Dennis said she was fine with a 2% to 3% increase in sales. Therefore, a 41% increase seemed surreal.

“We’ve come back to even better than pre-pandemic levels of spending going on in the state of Alabama,” Dennis said.

The National Retail Federation predicts 2021 could be the fastest growth period since 1984.

Being cooped up in quarantine has also resulted in more people wanting to go outdoors, which is good news for sporting goods stores. The biking business boomed during the pandemic.

“Folks wanted to get out more and more on their bike and running,” Montgomery Multisport general manager Abby Hancock said. “So that certainly kept the doors open.”

The stores earnings track along with the states, as Hancock said the sporting goods retailer has sold more than ever.

“May of 2021 was actually our biggest month in over 10 years that we’ve been open,” she said.
